The Christian world calls this the season of Advent; the coming of the great event or person; the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ. Of course Paul, in his letter to the Galatians doesn't condemn it, but wonders if they really got the message, saying: "I notice you observe days and months and seasons and years! I am afraid I have labored over you in vain." There is nothing wrong with observing this season of the year, as long as you understand it as the coming of the great event or person.
